LONDON, April 17 .- The Times has the following from St. Petersburg: There is a vague feeling of uneasiness among well informed people to-day. But no reason can be discovered there-

The stock market was stagnant and depressed until near the close, when the exaggerated report of the favorable character of Sir Stafford Northcote's statement in the House of Commons created some activity and confidence. The statement, though purely negative in the main issues, is regarded as a hopeful indication, because it gives as-surance that nothing has heretofore occurred to render peace impossible, Parliament separates for the Easter recess, under conviction that the the emerency is not greater than it was weeks travelled extensively in a majority of the counties comprising the 7th Judicial District, as constituted by the act of March, 1877. I have conversed with leading men in Rowan, Davie, Forsythe, Surry and Yadkio, and I am prepared to state that the prevailing sentiment in these counties is in favor of Hon. Wm. N. H. Smith for Chief Justice of the next Supreme Court.

It is a significant fact that no Chief removed from his position by any other cause than death or old age. To supthat he is not a worthy successor of the five men who have sat in that chair before him. Protest Against the Classification--- Deprecating Silver--

A Defense. (Correspondence of the News) Where now are the silver disaster

So you ask in a late editorial, Mr Editor. We must wait for the fulfil-ment of prophecies in their natural o.— der. I saw the other day a letter from one of the best informed and most liberal of our National Bank Presidents, in which, forecasting the future, he esti-mated the injury to his own capital as at least five per cent already. It was pre-And the papers tell us that they are already troublesome. Why not? A counterfeiter can put full weight into his coins and make seven and a half per cent. Much greater will be his profits when they contain only eighty-five instead of ninety-two and a balf cents, as the last reported contain. It was pre-dicted that the saving of millions of dol lars in interest by our government, and so stopping of the cries for higher tar-iffs, and for more internal revenue taxes would come to an end. The substitution of four per cent bonds for five per cent has come to grief. It was predict-ed that the rate of interest wouldn't rise. The very men who took the four per cent bonds, now ask four and a half. Our Secretary of the Treasury had to give it, and so pays out $25.0.0 a year extra, in accordance with "the silver disaster predictions."

By the way, Mr. Editor, are the honorable National Bank Presidents around you "Shylocks?" Such men were those with whom Mr. Sherman lately took counsel in New York,—men of the very highest, moral, social and financial standing-men to whose tried probity and sagacity their fellow citizens hav ions of dollars.

I am respectfully,

Our respected correspondent "X" ntitled to his opinion as to the effects of the Silver Bill, and there are doubtless wo sides to this, as all other questions. But he mistakes us if he read that our article referred in any manner to the Bank Presidents in this State; and we by no means aimed at all the banks in the country; far from it. When we said Shylocks we meant Shylocks, a class easily distinguishable from the legicimate business men of the North.

It seems, however, from all that can b learned, that Mr. A. R. Black, of the firm of Black Brothers, of Cheryville, had ridden to the house of Mrs. Heffner on horseback, and when he came out to go home discovered that some one had cut his bridle reins. He was greatly enraged and swore that he would kill the man who did it. He accused several men of the act, and this produced a general row, in which a young man named Pink Pendleton figured conspi cuously. Finally pistols were drawn and Anthony was shot. There seemed to be a difference of opinion as to who fired the shot, and consequently both Black and Pendleton were arrested and confined in jail at Lincolnton.

These provisions for the protection of men's homes against their creditors. were embodied in our organic law by the Constitutional Convention of 1868, and were subsequently ratified at the polls. The ingraftment of this new feature upon our Constitution was among the few really good things resulting from Republican ascendency. sociate Justice READE, who carried the majority of the Court with him in spite of the profound reasoning and powerful will of Chief Justice Pearson, was looking to the political, rather than the legal aspects of the case. However, no outry was made against the decision, as both Democrat and Republican were for the most part well pleased that the homestead law was good against old debts. The doctrine laid down in Hill vs. Kessler was reaffirmed in several cases and no appeal was taken. But finally, our Court having affirmed it for the eighth or ninth time, in Edwards vs. Kearsey the point was taken up by a writ of error, for review by the Suprem Court of the United States ; with the re sult announced in the News on yesterday, the latter Court reversing our Court and overruling the doctrine laid lown in Hill vs. Kessler, and so often re affirmed. The decision hardly takes any good lawyer by surprise. It has long been expected. Now that it has come we cannot but regret it, though we recognize that it is correct law. The effects of the decision will be widespread and far-reaching, and we fear disastrous to thousands. There is no protection left for those who contracted lebts prior to April 21st 1868, the date of the ratification of the new constitution, and have since failed, neglected of refused to pay or compromise them Many of these old debts are barred by th statute of limitations, but there are also thousands, no doubt, which were long ago fixed by judgments and have been kept alive, in view of the possibility of a reversal of our Supreme Court by the United States Supreme Court. Suci judgments will now be carried to execu ion, and the home of many a helple man will be swept from him. It is the final decree of the highest judicial tr bunal of our land, and the last hope of debtors escaping their old creditors of the days anterior to April 1868, is gone and such debtors must satisfy their creditors, or be sold out of house and

While this decision will work hard ship on many a poor, distressed, hardworking man who was wrecked by the fortunes of the war, and has only hi omestead remaining for the shelter and the support of his family, it will force some unprincipled debtors to disgorge who have basely evaded the just claim of their creditors by slinking behind the homestead law. His claim that the recommendation of each Judicial Discrict (in which a Judge is to be elected) or Superior Court Judge should be adopted by the State Convention we think is but just and fair, and there is little doubt that such recommendation will be adopted except in the event of some very grave objection to a candidate-such as is not likely to arise. It will be observed that the finale of the Driver case has been reached by Judge Buxton sentencing DRIVER, according erson claiming such exemption, or a to the intimation in the opinion of the Supreme Court, to thirty days imprison-

WE have again and again suggested through these columns that the law is made for the rich as well as the poor, for the high as well as the low, for the pretentious as well as the unpretentious, for the "aristocratic" as well as 'plebeians," for the uncommon and the common-in fact, for all classes of society. The law should be rigidly ennarriage become in any manner enti-led, shall be and remain the sole and forced against all offenders. Those officials, be they State, county or city, who swerve in the performance of this duty, through fear, favor or affection, are unworthy the places they fill; and by discriminating, in the administraion of the duties of their respective offices, between the different classes of society and the different conditions of nen, they would pursue a course not only very wrong in itself, but calculated to bring the government into utter contempt, besides outraging justice.

THE Homestead is now finally removed from the arena of politics. It is so firmly imbedded in the organic law of the State, and in the good will of the people of all classes, and of all races, and of all parties, that it can never be shaken. Any uneasiness, therefore, which may arise as to the future stability and permanence of the homestead applical is not well grounded, and should be dismissed.

Ex-Queen Isabella's jewels, which she is about to sell, are supposed to be worth about $500,000. She has reserved a collection of jewels, said to have a value of $150,000. She has also the most beautiful collection of laces in the world, and a large number of extremely valuable pictures.

There used to be a story of the adroit sharper who dried snow and sold it for salt, but little credence was given to it. In China, however, the ingenious natives blacklead chunks of ice and sell it for coal! So, at least, declares a Shanghai correspondent of the London Times, who found several lumps so treated in his scuttle.

A practical joke has led to a duel in Prague. Count Rummerskirch had a stool pulled from under him, and measured his length upon the floor in the presence of several ladies. As soon as he regained his footing he challenged Count MaxThurn, who had either pulled away the stool or told someone else to do it. The two nobles met in mortal combat, and the practical joker was wounded in the head, while his adversary lost one of his fingers.

The discovery has recently been made in England that ladies who figure in breach of promise cases as victims of man's brutality and treachery are invariably good-looking and interesting. A glance at the English provincial pa-pers serves to establish the fact beyond dispute. "Very prepossessing." "re-markably pretty," "possessed of great personal attractions," "decidedly beau-tiful" "extremely fascinating"—these are a few of the epithets which the London Globe finds employed to describe the charms of the interesting martyrs; and such a consensus of critical judgment leaves no room for a that blighted affections must have a beautifying effect on the human countenance. This view will meet with the acquiescence of every susceptible American liable to jury duty.

LOCAL BRIFFS.

-To-morrow is Good Friday -A Buncombe county man has found a diamond of great purity, for which he has been offered $10,000. -Residents on Edenton Street complain of an unsightly pile of brick lying near the First Baptist Church, and ask that it be removed.

-A contemporary gravely remarks that the counterfeit silver dollar may be detected by the superior workmanship of the engraving.

-The Oxford "Orphan's Friend" says:-"A prominent Republican sug-gests as the Republican ticket Judge Smith, Judge Reade, and Gen. Barringer.

-Take care of yourself. Every one now feels his biceps before going to work. An instructor in boxing cudgelplaying and other manly sports, could probably get up a class with ease now.

-Mr. Jas. A. Higgs, wholesale salesman for A. Creech, on yesterday showed us through his line of staple goods. He proposes to sell the country merchants this season, goods at prices that have never been equalled hereto-

-Mr. Frank Stronach narrowly escaped serious injury at the Central Depot. He was seated on the high seat of a large dray when the horses suddenly whirled round and he was thrown violently upon the ground. Fortunately only a few bruises were the result.

-A drummer's license has been issued to Slater, Myers & Co., Richmond, Va. That city seems to be going ahead in enterprises of this sort. The pusiness of its firms with our State must be largely on the increase, judging by the great number of licenses taken out.

-The President of the Western N. C. Railroad speaks hopefully of the completion of that road at an early day. He has no doubt that by June the cars will be running to the top of the mountain, and the line pushed rapidly to-wards Asheville before the tunnel is

The Next Fair.

The prospects for our next State Fair are increasingly bright. The Secretary of the Society, Capt. Denson, informs us that donations are being rapidly made by merchants, manufacturers and others. Last week, among others, he received a donation of the value of $100 from a Northern firm. Every effort is being made to make the show a success, and the regular campaign is soon to be opened.

A Fight in a Chapel.

Quite a number of the member choir of Christ Church, on Tuesday evening assembled for the practice for the Easter music at the Chapel, under the leadership of Maj. W. B. Gulick. While engaged in conducting the exercises, that gentle-man heard some one at the door, and vent to see who it was. He opened the door and was confronted by E. G. Haywood, Jr., and L. H. Haywood. These young men at once at tacked him with sticks, and he was quickly fe'led to the floor, receiving a evere blow on the head and some ruises on his body. Quite a number of young ladies were present and two of their escorts, Mr. Quinn, of Char-lotte, and Sam'l. A. Milier, of this city, ran to the aid of Mr. Gulick. In the nelee which ensued Mr. Quinn received a severe blow on the temple, from a stick. A panie followed among the fair sex present, many of whom jumped through the windows and fled, affrighted, away. At this stage of the affair the Rector entered and his presence quelled the disturbance. We decline to say more of the affair but await the full particulars which will be de veloped at the trial before the Mayor this morning. It seems that the occurrence originated from remarks made to a lady member of the choir by Mr. Guick, which were considered by her as be discussed by the State Agricultural Society at the approaching Fair. The Laboratory work of the Chemist at the Control Station having increased so rapidly, it was deemed necessary to mploy additional assistance for Dr.

On May 11th, the Justices of the Peace of this county, will meet at the Court House, for the purpose of organzation and consultation. # Maunday Thursday.

To-day is known as Maunday Thursday. On this day in the olden times the aucient sovereigns of England were accustomed to wash the feet of twelve paupers, in imitation of the Saviour washing the feet of his disciples. The giving of the "maund," which accompanied the practice, is the only r lic of it now remaining. King James I was the last to observe the custom, At court the Maunday is observed by the distribution of silver and provisions by the King's Almoner to poor

EPILEPSY. BARABOO, May 15, 1877. H. R. STEVENS:—
Dea SIT.—My husband has had Epilepsy for the past fifteen years. The past winter his blood seemed to be in a bad condition and seeing the good re-unis from the use of Vegetine in others, felt anxious to try it. Has taken some six bottles, and the result has been, that he has had only ten fits in three months past; whe ess, he was accustomed to having as many in two days at his worst, an effect that he did not expect. Am very anxious to have him continue the use some longer; and write you to ask you what terms, or what reduction you would make and send majone dozen by titles.

Wery respectfully,
MRS. A. C. COLE,
Baraboo, Sauk Co., Wis.

DR. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir.—We are truly grateful for your generous donation of Veget! e received list evening. A lady has been using it here, with much benefit to herself, who, for years, has been pronounced "broken down," worn out" &c. Frequently she was disturbed in her sleep by a violent nervous twitching of a fo-t, or the face, or the whole body. By taking this Veyetine, she is enabled to sleep quietly, a dher general health seems much impromed, though she has a complication of chronic diseases to conrend with. May God bless you for your charity to the orphans.

SISTERS OF: HARITY.

HARASSING DREAMS.—An unnatural exciement of the brain and nervous system is the direct cares of sleepless, ess, as also of harassing nocturnal dreams. Vegetine has a peculiarly scothing effect in all such cases, when taken just before going to bed.
